DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

Group I: Claims 1-7, drawn to a system for capturing information about objects moving relative to the system wherein the object dimension information, object identification information, and electronic images each have a time stamp information associated therewith, classified in Class 235, subclass 384.

Group II: Claims 8, 9, drawn to an intra-facility system for capturing, storing, and accessing object information comprising a server for storing and accessing the object information from one or more object information system, classified in Class 235, subclass 385.

Group III: Claims 10-28, drawn to a method, computer program and computer readable storage medium for storing a computer program for determine dimensions of an object comprising displaying a three-dimensional model of the object to a human operator, classified in Class 235, subclass 383.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

3. Inventions of Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the subcombination requires, among other things, the server for storing and for accessing the object information. The subcombination has separate utility such as it can be used in variety of places, such as in the department store wherein all packages will be observed for safety and/or security reasons.

4. Inventions of Group III and Group I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the subcombination requires, among other things, the capturing information about moving objects and further processing of information thereafter. The subcombination has separate utility such as it can be used in variety of other terminals or apparatus wherein the information for moving objects can be captured at toll gate, at parking exit, at the airport, etc.

5. Inventions of Group III and Group II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the subcombination requires, among other things, the infra-facility system for capturing information about moving objects and further processing of information thereafter. The subcombination has separate utility such as it can be used in variety of other terminals or apparatus wherein the information for moving objects can be captured at toll gate, at parking exit, at the airport, etc

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II or Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. A telephone call was made to Mr. Robert F. Rotella on 19 February 2002 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made because Mr. Rotella could not be reached.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
